March / October: 10.30am - 6pm November: 10.30am - 4.30pm Closed: Monday;

Located in the Reserva da Foupana, Vaqueiros, in the municipality of Alcoutim, this Mining Park lies only one hour from the centre of Faro. Prehistoric mining activities in the Algarve hinterland date back to 2500 BC, and this region has inherited countless archaeological vestiges.The Mining Park enables visitors to observe the vestiges of a copper mine, with abundant signs of mining activities from the Copper age to the Roman era. Visitors can embark on a 750 metre pedestrian open air itinerary, where they will find old copper mines and prehistoric reconstitutions, including a primitive dwelling and utensils, a replica of a primitive forge used to smelt copper and representations of human working figures from the era. The Park will allow you to journey back in time, in a trip to the remote past, where the daily lives of our ancestors are recreated, ranging from the Copper age (2500 BC) to the Roman era.When visiting the site, don't miss the opportunity to go on a donkey ride. You may also acquire local handicrafts from the municipality of Alcoutim and take a refreshment as you marvel at the stunning landscape of the North-East Algarve.

It is a special minigolf course, built in a historic setting that reminds us of Ancient Rome, and also has a "clubhouse" built in a Roman style. The two 18-hole courses (par 2, 3 and 4) are designated Via Appia and Via Lusitania and offer short explanatory texts for all interested persons.A tourism train provides a connection between Roma Golf Park and Vilamoura, Quarteira and Praia da Falésia. Longer connections are made via coach.

Portugal dos Pequenitos (Portugal for the Little Ones), which is considered to have been the first theme park in the country, is a pedagogical playground, where the whole family can spend a pleasant and enjoyable day learning more about the nation´s history. For the children, this is an excellent opportunity to amuse themselves entering and leaving houses and monuments built to their own size.Here we can find only miniature reproductions of the Portuguese architectural heritage, displayed in the form of traditional houses and replicas of National Monuments from the North to the South of the country, such as the Mosteiro dos Jerónimos in Lisbon, the Convento de Cristo in Tomar, the Torre de Belém in Lisbon and Coimbra University. There is also a group of buildings designed to illustrate the ethnography and monuments of the Portuguese-speaking African Countries, Macau, India and Timor, reminding us of the Portuguese ex-colonies and providing us with the context of the project, by situating it in the historical period in which it was built. The park also contains a children´s playground and Costume, Naval and Furniture Museums, also in miniature.The project was devised in 1940 by the doctor Bissaya Barreto (1886-1974) and built by the modernist architect Cassiano Branco (1879-1970). Bissaya Barreto was a teacher at the Faculty of Medicine of Coimbra University and was famous for having carried out a vast amount of social work in the central region of Portugal, providing much help to those in need. He created the Bissaya Barreto Foundation, which was responsible for a series of cultural activities and social work. The building of Portugal dos Pequenitos was an integral part of this project.

"KidZania is an indoor theme park designed for children until 15 years old and their parents. It's a kid-sized replica of a real city where children play adult roles in a highly realistic environment. They can choose between more than 60 different professions which are practiced in replicas of the most representative establishments of an actual city: airport, factories, theatre, shops, racetrack, police station, fire department, press, TV studio, stadium and many more. The activities are designed to be fun and pedagogical, based on the edutainment -education %20 entertainment? concept. Its contents are developed according to school programmes and seek to teach the children citizenship values and rules, helping them to live in society in a healthy way.At KidZania the official currency is the kidZo. With their kidZos, citizens are able to buy several goods and services available in the city (such as, supermarket goods, hairdresser, car rental, etc) or even do their shopping at the kidZos shop. To earn their kidZos, children will practice the profession they like the most. Their effort will be rewarded with a salary. They manage their own money and are given the opportunity to save their kidZos in a KidZania bank account and draw it out at an ATM machine the next time they visit the city. After all, money doesn't grow on trees!At KidZania safety comes first. Besides the activities being closely monitored by qualified monitors, the city has also an RFID tracking system for children and adults.Each tour to the city is a new and unrepeatable experience. Besides being open to families, KidZania also offers specially designed visits for schools groups, duly supported and adjusted to each case. This is a unique and extremely versatile place. It's an excellent solution for an unforgettable birthday party or a personalized business event. KidZania is a one-size-fits-all designed space with, among others: parents resting room, cafeteria, gift shop, nursing room, infirmary, photography services and a room for little children."
