Spending a night in one of the manor houses under the umbrella of the Solares de Portugal organisation means enjoying a guaranteed warm welcome and benefiting from the famous hospitality that has been turned into a genuine art by Portuguese families. It also means coming into contact with a heritage that is rich in history and culture and with a centuries-old tradition that the owners of the house are always delighted to share with their guests, in a simple and courteous manner. This is the best and most personalised way of getting to know the different particularities of each region: its festivals, cuisine, customs and traditions.

Solares de Portugal has divided its properties into three categories: Manor Houses and Stately Homes, Country Estates and Farms and Cottages and Rustic Houses. Guests can also enjoy complementary activities for their own entertainment, ranging from fishing to hunting, to golf, simple countryside strolls or horse-riding, bicycle-riding, tennis or swimming.
